WHEREFORE, Fifth Third respectfully requests that Plaintiff's Complaint be dismissed with prejudice; that Plaintiff take nothing by way of its Complaint; that Fifth Third be awarded its costs and reasonable attorney fees expended herein; and that Fifth Third be awarded such other and further relief to which Fifth Third may be entitled in equity or at law, or that the Court may deem just and equitable.

COUNTERCLAIM

For its counterclaim against Plaintiff, Fifth Third alleges as follows:

PARTIES

136. Fifth Third is an Ohio banking corporation with its principal place of business in Cincinnati, Ohio.

137. Upon information and belief, S&P Global Market Intelligence (“S&P”) is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware with its principal place of business located at 55 Water Street, New York, New York 10041. Upon information and belief, S&P Global Market Intelligence is a subsidiary of S&P Global Inc. f/k/a McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. S&P has represented that, as part of an internal corporate reorganization, and pursuant to an assignment dated as of January 1, 2016, it acquired certain rights and obligations – including all rights and obligations related to the claims and allegations set forth herein – formerly belonging to Standard & Poor’s Financial Services LLC.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

138. This Court has subject-matter jurisdiction over the claims asserted in this action, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332, because the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.00, exclusive of interest and costs, and because the dispute is between citizens of different states.

139. Venue is proper in this because S&P conducts business in this District; and a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims occurred, and continues to occur, in this District.

COUNT ONE: BREACH OF CONTRACT

140. On or about February 23, 2009, Fifth Third and S&P entered into a Master Subscription Agreement, effective as of January 2, 2009 (the “MSA”). The MSA contemplated that S&P could provide specific services to Fifth Third pursuant to subsequent service attachments to the contract.

141. On or about July 1, 2010, Fifth Third entered into an attachment to the MSA entitled “LCD Commercial Loan Performance Optimization Program Services Attachment to the Master Subscription Agreement,” referred to herein as the First Attachment. Under the terms of this agreement, S&P pledged to review Fifth Third’s confidential financial information and provide advice for making greater profits on certain Fifth Third products. S&P pledged to track and report the “Performance Enhancement Realized,” which was defined as “the incremental revenue that the Bank achieves through the execution of one or more of the [S&P’s] recommendations.”

142. On or about October 1, 2012, Fifth Third and S&P amended Attachment 1 to condition its renewal upon S&P’s achievement of a Performance Enhancement Realized of at least $7.5 million during the previous year.

143. On or about October 1, 2012, Fifth Third entered into second attachment to the MSA entitled “LCD Commercial Loan Performance Optimization Program Services Attachment to the Master Subscription Agreement,” referred to herein as the Second Attachment. Under the terms of this agreement, S&P pledged to review Fifth Third’s confidential financial information and provide advice for making greater profits on certain additional Fifth Third products. Once again, S&P pledged to track and report the “Performance Enhancement Realized,” which was defined as “the incremental revenue that the Bank achieves through the execution of one or more of the [S&P’s] recommendations.”

144. Despite its contractual obligation to track Performance Enhancement Realized, S&P failed to do this. Upon information and belief, instead of tracking performance enhancement realized as a result of implementation of S&P recommendations, S&P falsely recorded any and all increased revenue Fifth Third experienced as if it had resulted from implementation of S&P's recommendations rather than other facts. S&P knew that this was a false representation of performance enhancement. S&P used this false representation of performance to claim that the First Attachment had automatically renewed by its terms, when in fact it knew that it had not achieved the Performance Enhancement Realized milestones necessary for automatic renewal.

145. Under the attachments, S&P collected fees from Fifth Third that were calculated as a percentage of what S&P purported to be Performance Enhancement Realized, but were not, in fact, Performance Enhancement Realized.

146. S&P breached the MSA, the First Attachment, and the Second Attachment. As a result of these breaches, S&P collected millions of dollars from Fifth Third that were not rightly owed. Because S&P did not fulfill its obligations, Fifth Third did not receive the benefit of the performance enhancement it had been promised.

COUNT TWO: UNJUST ENRICHMENT

147. Fifth Third incorporates its prior allegations as if fully restated herein.

148. S&P continued to take payments from Fifth Third after it failed to perform the terms of the MSA, First Attachment, and Second Attachment, and after termination of the agreements.

149. S&P has benefited as a result of these improper collections at Fifth Third's expense.

150. Equity requires that S&P provide Fifth Third restitution of millions of dollars that were improperly retained.

COUNT THREE: PAYMENT BY MISTAKE

151. Fifth Third incorporates its prior allegations as if fully restated herein.

152. S&P collected payments of millions of dollars from Fifth Third that were based upon S&P's faulty calculation of Performance Enhancement Realized.

153. These payments were mistakenly paid. S&P has nonetheless retained these payments. S&P must return these payments.

WHEREFORE, Fifth Third respectfully requests that this Court enter judgment in its favor in an amount to be determined at trial, along with punitive damages, costs, reasonable attorney's fees to the extent allowed by law, and other relief as the Court may deem appropriate or allowed in equity or by law.

JURY DEMAND

Fifth Third hereby demands a trial by jury on all issues.
